Okay. I want to make sure that I got this right. So you're not contending that SCE&G's use of the 1.15 performance factor to -- that was included in the filings in March of 2015, was I'm not familiar with what you're Okay. As I had understood your testimony in your prior deposition -- and maybe I -maybe I just misunderstood. But I thought that you indicated that the company should not have used an estimate at completion cost in its 2015 filings that were based on projected performance factors as opposed to historically achieved performance factors. Did -- did I get that wrong? But it wasn't March of 2015. Because my husband got sick in May of 2015. When I came back to work, it would have been in June. So we would have had a hearing sometime in late June or We may be -- we may just be miscommunicating a little bit. And I -- I take responsibility for that. What I was talking about was -- and I understand the testimony followed the petition. But there was a petition filed in March

And maybe -- maybe it's easier to do this by looking at your testimony and we can do that too, if -- if it makes it easier. As I had 11 12 understood your prior testimony, what -- what I 13 thought you were complaining about was -- well, one 14 of the things I thought you were complaining about 15 was that the company, when it made the presentation to the Public Service Commission in 2015 --17 Α Uh-huh. 18 -- asked for revisions and updates that 19 were based on performance factors and worker 20 efficiency that Westinghouse was projecting to be 21 more efficient than they had actually accomplished. 22 That's probably correct. 23 Okay. So as I understood your testimony a minute ago, the -- that -- that isn't what you contend the company was lying about. You now -what I now understand you to be saying is, there was something in connection with the 2015 amendment that 10 11 you thought was inappropriate or improper. And that 12 that was what you were saying you weren't going to 13 lie to the company about. Is -- is that right? I'm just trying to understand what you're saying. They -- when -- when we were talking 16 about what to go forward with in this hearing, 17 Kevin Marsh, Jimmy Addison, Marty Phalen, the guy that graduated from high school and lied about going to college, who was an executive senior V.P. 19 Steve Byrne -- Kevin, Jimmy, Steve, Marty Phalen -- I guess it was those four -- Jeff Archie would 22 be in there sometimes, but not always because he 23 -- he was an idiot. But anyway, so you had those four in there. And we kept showing them what the team from nuclear had projected the estimate at

I said, I'll be damned, I know exactly what I gave that man. And he's the C.F.O. straight between the X and Y axis, we were projecting it to be something like 1.2 billion. of this company. We didn't know what the basis was. And I think, 10 Α The Westinghouse number. So when we 10 11 maybe -- maybe it was based on some PI, you know, 11 went in the meeting the next morning, my number 12 performance factor. But Kevin kept going back and 12 and my team's number wasn't on there. I couldn't 13 saying well, I've got something that backs up this 13 bring it up. Like Jimmy had told me the night 14 687,000,000 -- is the number that keeps coming before. He said, but I want you to bring it up and discuss it. Well, it was off the agenda. And back to me. And then, you know, we'd meet -- we met like four times between January and April. 16 the only thing that was on there was a column with 17 And every time I kept bringing up the team's 17 Westinghouse at the top of it, 687,000,000 number that Ken led in making these calculations. 18 dollars. And Kevin said, I've got something from 19 He showed me the calculation. It all -- I went 19 Westinghouse that supports that number. And 20 over there. They were in -- they were sequestered that's the number we're going to go with. And I in a separate building for like two months just was like, there you go. The C.E.O. made the making that calculation. I got involved with it. 22 22 decision. 23 I made -- it made perfect sense what he was doing. 23 And --And so I -- I kept bringing it up. I was like, 24 And I can't tell you that that number well, you know, this is what we did. This is how was perfectly wrong. He just chose that number

Ken made the calculation. And Kevin at the end, our number was off the agenda that -- ev --everybody agreed from the business team that there was a meeting held. Every day we met it felt like we were coming in after another meeting had been held the night before and a decision had been made. And our numbers just kept being shoved to the side. And then, finally the last meeting we had, our number was off the agenda. And so the night before I was going to have that meeting. I 10 11 went to Jimmy Addison's office. I gave him a file. I made a duplicate copy of it and I explained to Jimmy Addison. I said, Jimmy, I 13 said, this is what your team came up with as the estimate at completion. Let me show you why we think this is the right number. I walked him 16 17 through the whole calculation. At the end of the 18 calculation, he looked at me. He said Carlette, he said, I understand where you're coming from and 19 I used to think that was right. But they've convinced me that the W.E.C. number is the way we 22 need to go. And I said, so be it. I said, just 23 wanted you to know exactly why we calculated the 24 way we did. And I left that file with him. It was in a red folder. I had a yellow copy of it up. I don't know why he chose that number and not my number. But he chose that one. I didn't feel good about it, but I can't say that it was --I didn't know at that point that it was -- that he was a bad guy. I had worked with that man for 28 years. I trusted him. I thought he was a good man. I was just a -- a idiot for believing him. 10 At some point, he turned and ended up being 11 nothing but a lying slob. 12 So -- so --13 But at this point, I still trusted 14 him. 0 All right. So let me -- let me try to break this down. As I understand it, the 16 17 calculations that you're talking about that your 18 team did or the team working under you did, assumed 19 a -- took the estimate of completion figures that Westinghouse provided in August of 2014 and ran calculations assuming that the historical 22 performance factor --23 No. It didn't --24 Q -- that had been achieved --25 It took nothing from Westinghouse. It

I don't want to go through chapter and verse, but if you -- I did want to just direct your attention to 22 23 about halfway down the first page. There's a reference to monthly project status meeting minutes consortium and SCE&G with a reference that those are

And basis to O.R.S. were monthly project status minute 0 meetings? when I say that, I mean, who -- whose idea was it to Α -- to do the -- the review of the type that your 10 10 team was doing? 0 Do you have any reason to believe O.R.S. 11 did not have access to monthly project status 11 A I was actually given that charter. I 12 meeting minutes provided by SCE&G? 12 can't remember if it was Steve Byrne. I think it 13 13 MR. COX: Object to the form. was Steve Byrne that asked me to develop a budget 14 THE DEPONENT: Adam Hoey -- Adam Hoey 14 for the project. And I originally was working 15 began taking minutes after we employed him. with someone from Westinghouse. His name was 16 By Mr. Balser: 16 Dwayne something. And Dwayne was relatively new 17 0 Adam Hoey was a SCE&G employee? 17 with Westinghouse. I think he had been with 18 The SCANA Services employees. 18 Westinghouse at some point and then had been gone 19 19 SCANA Services. But a -- my question is for quite a few years. And then had come back to a little different. You don't have any reason to 20 Westinghouse. And anyway, Dwayne tried hard. But 21 believe that the O.R.S. did not have access to the that ended up being just a dead end. And so as 22 22 time went on, what we found was we began to be monthly project status meeting minutes as reflected 23 on the Excel spreadsheet attached to exhibit 7? 23 pressed to figure out where the project was going. 24 I don't doubt that it -- for a minute. And it was -- become abundantly clear to everybody 25 0 that between -- between the performance that was Okav.

happening in front of us, between the actual construction of the prefabricated parts, which were supposed to be made in Lake Charles, Louisiana. That as well as the issues that were

-- they were having on site with the concrete -the actual consistency and the formulas that they were needing to be able to come up with to be able to meet the N.R.C. codes or what have you. It was obvious that the project was starting to go south. 10 And so we were beginning to see the need to be 11 able to develop our own estimate at completion. So instead of coming up with a budget, we kind of 13 just morphed into coming up with an estimate at completion. And so that was really -- came from the senior executive level, but not to develop an

E.A.C. per se, but more an overdraft -- and 16 17 overlay budget that morphed into an E.A.C.

18 Got it. When did -- when did the Q 19 charter, if you will, get issued? It -- in other words, when -- when did the work begin with respect 21 to budgeting, which then kind of morphed into a -- a 22 -- an overlay of the E.A.C.?

23 So let's see. That was the -- I know we worked on it for probably about four months.

And so we were finished in January of '15. And we Adam did begin those -- well, once we hired him, we -- he sat in the monthly project review meeting and we began taking minutes. But that was late in the project.

And before Adam began creating minutes, Westinghouse did create minutes of each of those monthly project meetings. Correct?

That's correct. And no one at SCE&G took any, which I thought was flawed. And that's why we took it upon ourselves to have Adam sit in the meeting and take minutes. But I only had so many people. So it had to be -- it was six years before we could get somebody to be able to sit in and do that Okay. We've been going about an hour. How are you doing? Are you okay? Do you want to take a short break or are you all right?

18 If y'all want to take a -- maybe a 19 five minute bathroom break, that'd be nice.

And -- and -- and do you recall whether 0 the -- the catalyst to initiate that work was a new E.A.C. that was provided by Westinghouse to the company in August of 2014? Α I don't know when they got that new A--- E.A.C. 10 0 Okav. 11 That was provided to Kevin Marsh. And 12 so I don't know when he got that E.A.C. 13 Okay. Who on your team -- who -- who 14 selected the -- the folks who were going to work on 15 this project? 16 А I did. 17 Q Okay. And who did you select and with 18 respect to each of the person you selec --- you 19 selected to -- to participate, can you tell me why 20 you chose that particular person? 21 22 Okav. 0

I talked with Skip Smith. He was the business manager. And just so you'll kind of see how the organization was structured, my team -- I

23

25

didn't have excessive hours. You know, during a pay period or you didn't have reimbursements for expenses that were outside of boundaries. You know, we had all kinds of different controls in place. And we had probably three people that worked on her team. And they also did the financial information for corporate. You know, doing journal entries and close out and stuff like 10 So then, there was another team that was nuclear employees. And so Skip Smith was a 11 12 general manager and he reported to -- within the 13 nuclear organization. And so he reported to Ron Jones, who was the V.P. of nuclear construction. See, I reported to the C.F.O. of SCANA. So Skip 16 had responsibility to Ron Jones. Skip had 17 approval authority to be able to have the system 18 cut a check to pay an invoice to C.B. and I or to 19 Westinghouse. I didn't have that authority. 20 My authority to pay for something was to be able to approve an expense report for an 22 employee that reported to me or a credit card that 23 was somebody that reported to me. That was the extent that I could approve something. So if from Westinghouse, I had no approval authority.

somebody were to send in a billion dollar invoice was from SCANA Services. And so I had a team that had three managers. I had a manager for, kind of like, an audit function or a -- a compliance function for the contract. She was Shirley Smith -- Shirley Johnson. Then I had a -- a manager for reporting, that was Kevin Kochems. He was highly technical with the computer and being able to pull things out of the system and reorganize it and do -- I -- that contract was written and so it was 10 11 real challenging. You had current day dollars, 12 but the -- the contract itself was based on 2007 13 dollars. So you had to use today dollars, but 14 then you had to go back and present value it back to 2007 base dollars. And so it was -- it was a challenging contract to work with. So I needed 16 17 somebody that had pretty strong Excel skills and 18 also understood finance. So that was Kevin 19 Kochem's role. 20 And then I had another manager whose role was internal controls as it relates to 22 processing invoices. Making sure that the 23 invoices had controls around them to be able to do like processing and make sure that, you know, we didn't have invoices that -- or individuals that

You know, I could, you know, give somebody a hard time about it, but Skip could have it paid. And Ron Jones, the V.P. of Construction had the authority to pay to approve an invoice for the system to pay it. So Skip had two people that reported to him. He had a clerk and then he had a -- Ken Brown, who was a senior engineer. Ken is probably one of the brightest persons I've ever worked 10 11 with. And he -- he -- he knew how to translate 12 the engineering that was in the field into the 13 invoice and the process that we -- we were using. So he was an -- and we couldn't put a value on how important he was to be able to use him with my 16 team, who didn't have any engineering skills. So 17 he translated lots of information for us to be 18 able to comprehend what was in the invoice and 19 also what we would see or hear about. 20 So I talked to Skip very early on. 21 Skip and I, kind of were, if you saw Skip, a lot 22 times you'd see me. Or if you saw Ken, a lot of 23 times you'd see me. Because I had to learn a lot about construction because that's not my background. My background was utility. And as a

C.P.A., it was a lot of accounting and finance, auditing and then before I came into -- before I came to construction, I actually was a corporate compliance officer for four years. So, you know, I had nothing in the way of construction.

Q Who quarterbacked that project? Was it you or was it Skip or -- and when I say that project, I mean, this review process that -- that led to a -- a budget slash like a E.A.C. overlay.

project, I mean, this review process that -- that led to a -- a budget slash like a E.A.C. overlay.

Who -- who -- who was -- who ran that day-to-day -
that effort?

that effort?

12 A What do you mean?

Q On your team. So you -- you've got this 14 -- you -- you got these team members that you're 15 assembling to do this review. And my question is, 16 like, who -- who is -- who is running that -- that 17 work stream? Was that --

18 A And that's what --

19 Q -- you?

A -- I'm getting ready to tell you.

21 Q Okay.

22 A I --

23 Q Sorry. Go ahead.

24 A Yeah. So I assembled a team and I

 25 asked Skip if we could have Ken lead the effort.

And while they were working on that, I

documented, create all the spreadsheets and inter

3 product.

would go between what my job was and all the freaking meetings that we had, and then I would go

7 over to their building so that I could stay in linkings. And then come up with an ending

8 touch with what they were doing and how they were

9 going about it so that I could be a spokesperson

 $10\,$ as to where we were and what we were -- kind of 11 some of the assumptions that were going into that 12 calculation. And so at the end, I was in $13\,$ $\,$ agreement with the underlying assumptions that \dots

14 went into that E.A.C.

Q And that -- and that's what I was going to -- you anticipated my next question. Which is, do you recall -- was there ever a discussion among this team that you assembled and -- and -- and you about what assumptions to make about productivity factors to use for the calculation?

21 A Yeah

22 Q All right. Tell -- tell me what you 23 remember about those discussions and how you landed 24 on using the historical as opposed to some other

5 number.

Ken knew the contract. He knew the engineering side of it and he knew the finance part of it. So he would be the perfect person. And then I could give him Kevin who could be the system guy that could do the Excel spreadsheets to be able to create all of the cash flows necessary. And then

I also could give him one of my senior accountants

8 that was really adapt at Excel as well. So I gave 9 him Megan Waits who was an excellent worker. And

10 then, I also could make him available to have one 11 of my other mangers, Sherry, when she wasn't in

2 closeout. So those were the players. And then I

13 also gave him Margaret. She's an outstanding

14 employee with a great work ethic.

15 So I gave him a team and they even 16 were in a different building so that they wouldn't 17 be interacting with us asking questions and going 18 to meetings and stuff like that. It was like go 19 over there to that separate building and work to $20\,$ $\,$ come up with a plan on how to come up with an

21 E.A.C. and actually put it in place and calculate 22 it. And they worked on it for probably about six

23 weeks to two months getting all the background
24 information, all the estimates, you know, average

25 annual -- or average hourly rates. All of that

1 A Well, I mean, I -- I -- I don't
2 remember the discussion other than what I just 3 shared with you on that sheet of paper.

Q Okay.

I mean, I -- if you asked me to come up with something again and you told me anything other than to follow the history, I mean, I couldn't do -- I couldn't rationalize anything

9 other than at a minimum, the average of the 10 history.

O Okav.

12 A You couldn't -- for me as a rational 13 person, to do anything other than to look back at 14 the history of where that project has been and

15 pick something arbitrary other than something 16 along that line, would be -- to me would be 17 misguided.

Q Was there any -- was there any discussion that you recall about -- it -- did your team -- let me -- strike that. Let me ask -- ask 21 this question. Did you -- was your team aware at 22 the time it was doing its work, that Westinghouse 23 had projected an improved performance factor of 24 1.15? Did you guys know that?

A No. I don't think so. But if they 68

CONTINUED DEPOSITION OF CARLETTE WALKER October 30, 2018

65 would have told us they had that as a projection,

we would have laughed.

Okav. And --

12

We would have said that was just absolutely -- and I won't cuss about it -- we would have said that was absolutely ludicrous.

0 Okav. And was there any discussion that you recall among your team members about the fact that there could be lessons learned in -- from unit two that could be applied to unit three. Such as 11 the craft work, we're getting more efficient, for 13 Based on what they were doing, they 14 were getting less efficient the more they did it.

example, in the construction of unit three?

Okay. Do you -- do you recall any 15 16 discussion about other potential performance factors 17 to use other than historical? Or did you just say let's go with historical. That seems to make the 19 most sense and we're going to calculate it that way?

20 There was nothing at that project. Nothing that was good. Everything was getting 22 worse. I mean, all we ever heard was more

23 failures and more problems. And I mean, the last thing I remember hearing was that all of the steel that was -- that had been fabricated warped and a number at the bottom that had a double lines.

And it said that E.A.C. for units two and three.

And it was -- and I think it was like 1.2 billion

Q Let me ask you this. You -- you -- you testified that this project started as a budget project and that kind of morphed into E.A.C.

Explain how it morphed. I mean, what -- how did that --

11

10 I can't --

> -- how did that happen? 0

12 I can't remember how. It just -- it 13 was a transition. You know, you couldn't get the 14 budget straight because this Dwayne guy didn't know, you know, what he was doing. And he was 16 trying to figure it out and he was trying to work

17 with this woman named Joanne Hyde. And she was kind of high strung, but she -- she knew the 19 system. But she wouldn't share it with him. I

20 don't know if they were compet--- there was some competition between the two of them. But he would try to help you, but he didn't know what he was 22

23 doing. And so it -- I didn't even know where he 24 went. All of a sudden he was just kind of gone and it was like -- I -- I don't know what happened

66

had been re-cleaned up on site that was all under tents. I mean, it was like a tent city. That there was all question about the original -- the origin of the steel was all in guestion. So that made it to where everything on that site was likely bad and was going to have be rectified with new because it was not tracked according to the N.R.C. regs. And it was like when I heard that, it was just like, go figure. I mean, this is just like a debacle on top of a debacle.

10 11 So as I understand it then, your team was working in a separate building. They were coming up with their own calculation. They weren't told about what Westinghouse's projection of performance factor was. I understand your testimony that you would have rejected it had you known. And 16 17 then what was the -- the -- was there a -- an end product that your team created? What was the --

13

25

20 -- a deliverable? What -- what -- what was it? What -- what -- what did the team come up 22 with? What did it look like?

23 It was a simple spreadsheet that came 24 down and it showed you the different elements. I can't remember off the top of my head. And it had with him. But he was trying to give us the data

we wanted in the billings in the format we wanted

so that we could, you know, work with their billings in a more accurate easy way. And so that was going to help us in being able to develop budgets and stuff. And -- and we did the same thing with C.B&I. or Shaw. And it's like you could never get them to do things in a format that was reasonable. And it was -- I'm pretty sure it was on purpose so that you wouldn't -- couldn't 10

get a handle on where everything was.

So we ended up having to have somebody

13 from our I.S.T. Department come out and format a huge database that could take their data in like tremendous volumes and reorganize so that we could test their data. Because they wouldn't give it to 16

17 us in a format that you could use anybody's system

18 to actually read it. I mean, it would come to us

19 in these big blobs. And it's like well, why can't you give it to us in lines, organized like this.

And they'd say, oh, you know, our system won't do that. And it's -- I mean, everything was always 22

23 such an excuse. So when -- if you asked them to 24 give you budget next to their actuals, they

And we were running different models, different scenarios for them to negotiate with Westinghouse and C.B.N.I., and we were, you know, kind of sequestered into one room. What what is it about that amendment that you think was bad, wrong, improper? A Yeah, well, when myself, Ken Browne, Kevin Kochems and Skip Smith, we were all involved working with Kevin Marsh, Jimmy Addison and Steve Byrne doing analysis of all of the outstanding commercial issues and also the E.A.C. and all of the the financial aspects of the project. Well, we this went on for probably I would say 10 to 14 days straight. And during all of these calculations that we were going through and sending the executives back in and making payments -- first of all, they had let C.B.N.I. -- they released them from the contract with no liability or responsibility for any of the work that they had done from the beginning of the project. That would include the Shaw work and all of the work that C.B.N.I. had done. So that represented at least six years that I had been on the project -- and I think the project had been going for several years before I got there. 10 And keep in mind that I was at -- in 11 corporate compliance doing my job. And then I was 12 plucked up out of corporate compliance, doing that 13 one day, and then called up to the C.E.O.'s office 14 and told that, oh, we don't -- I -- I was asked if I wanted to -- be interested in being the senior 16 vice-president of H.R. and told I want you to 17 interview for that position. Interviewed for that position and I was told that I was one of the top 19 contenders, myself and one other guy. And then I 20 get called up by Timmerman and he says, oh, we don't need you -- you would be a waste of your talents to be in H.R. I need you to go up at the 22 23 project; Carlette, or I need you to go up there for three or four years, get things set up, get controls in place. And then when you finish

there, you come back to me and I'll tell you --

25

I was able to add value. Ron Clary was no longer around. So -- I don't even know why I got off on that -- on that tangent. But anyway, so when we were in the room and he was discussing what the -- the terms were going to be, he said that we were going to drop C.B.N.I. and let them walk away from the table and we would have nobody to go back against for any mis--- you know, like wrong work 10 or, you know, anything that's been done wrong. We 11 would have to pay yet another contractor to do 12 that work again if we needed to fix it. And it 13 was going to bring in new crowd that had no nuclear experience, because we've already trained C.B.N.I. people to some degree to do nuclear work. Well, we're going to start all over because they 17 were going to bring in that Fluor-Daniel to do the 19 And then on top of that, he was going 20 to start paying them -- on average, we spent about 50 million dollars a month on what we call the -the T and M. And that was like a cost-plus part 23 of our contract. Well, he was going to spend you tell me what you want to be and then you can be that. And I was like, oh, great. So I was literally dropped into a project that was already three years going. And Ron Clary, who was made the V.P. of construction when I was named V.P. of nuclear finance, did not appreciate, nor did he want anybody from SCANA coming into his nuclear project. 10 So from the very onset, it was like 11 fighting a war to be accepted into the project. I 12 mean, I went to his boss and asked him to help me 13 to penetrate into the project. And then I went to my boss, who was Jimmy Addison, and I had to ask him to help me to break through Ron Clary to get accepted into the project. He had me taken off of 16 17 distri--- letter distributions. I mean, he 18 would -- he did everything he could to have me 19 excluded so I couldn't do my job. 20 All right. So then -- so once -- once I finally got into the project and I started 22 learning about it, then I became an integral part 23 of the project. So I started figuring out what we were spending and how we were spending it. So then when we went and got into this group setting, construction now. And then they were going to sub out the construction part.

118

with -- Westinghouse was going be the -- like

He wanted to pay them a hundred million dollars a month starting in January. That would have been the month that they would have been the least productive. They wouldn't even have a full construction staff when the most we've ever paid for construction was 50 million. And Kevin was going to double that to a hundred 10 million and he was going to pay that for five 11 months straight in a row when you are going to be the least productive since I've been at the 13 project for six years. And so he was going to 14 spend 500 million dollars January through May. And as I understand it, he never did 16 quit spending a hundred million dollars a month. 17 But I didn't know that was going to happen. But 18 he was going to pay a hundred million dollars a 19 month, January through May, which coincidentally, Westinghouse needed 500 million dollars every year just to make its payroll. And coincidentally, 22 Westinghouse was also almost going bankrupt. And coincidentally, that lines up beautifully with dozen times. Those people couldn't negotiate and agree to anything. C.B.N.I. and Westinghouse, it was their way or no way. SCE&G never moved not an inch to get anything out of Westinghouse.

Did you -- did anyone explain to you with respect to the hundred million dollar monthly payments that those payments were being made on an interim basis until a revised construction milestone payment schedule could be implemented? Did anyone tell you that? 10

11 Α So did they make the hundred million

12 all the way through until they closed the project 13 down?

Q My question is, did anyone tell you that?

What -- what -- ask it again.

17 Did anyone tell you that the monthly 18 payments that you just described, the one hundred 19 million dollar monthly payments that were scheduled 20 to commence January 1 of 2016, were designed to be a 21 set of interim payments --

22 Α Absolutely, I knew that. But why

I understand it, you -- after you -- you have expressed to me, I think clearly, what your concerns and views were about the amendment. Did there come a time in early 2016 where you asked Mr. Marsh whether you could become a direct report to him? I did, because I knew that Jimmy and I did not see eye to eye. And I questioned whether or not there was some -- well, I mean, now I know that it was being orchestrated from Kevin. But 10 11 for probably the last two years that I was on the project, I felt as if Jimmy Addison and Jeff 13 Archie were creating a hostile work environment 14 because I was constantly being reprimanded. And then there was an opportunity for 16 Kevin to help an employee who was being 17 inappropriately demoted in pay. And I reached out 18 to Kevin, and the Kevin that I knew had the 19 appropriate response. And then given I guess -- I 20 don't know, it was probably about two weeks after I talked to him, Kevin turned my request around

You know, things like that where, I 14 was Kevin Marsh said that he had something that mean, they would tell us that they only -- that the fuel tank that -- just like -- it looked just supported the WEC numbers in writing from like a gas station -- that only people that had 16 Westinghouse and that that was the basis that he 16 17 wanted to use those numbers. 17 key fabs that were authorized 18 0 Have you ever made a presentation to the C.B.N.I. construction vehicles could buy -- or 19 19 fill the trucks up, or their cars. SCANA board of directors? 20 20 IIh-hiih Α Yes 21 When would that have been done? When we go in and do the audit, there is no key fab. Anybody can pull their car up and 22 In the fall of 2015. 22 Α 23 Q And what was the topic? 23 fill their car up. And everybody did. And you They wanted to know -- have an 24 know, we're paying for that gasoline. And that overview of what controls that their finance team might sound petty, but that's just an example 142 144 of -- of the lack of control. And if that's your had in place for the project, for invoice controls. Did you prepare any materials for that, like a PowerPoint? Α No, I -- no, I didn't. Okay. I just talked, you know, from my notes from -- that I had made for myself. 0 And do you -- do you -- would you still have those notes, by any chance? 10 11 No. I gave them lots of examples of 12 where we found large gaps and mistakes. It was --13 it should have been an ear full. It should have raised concerns. That was what I attempted to do. And I got no follow up. And that was -- as I understand it, this is third hand, but the audit 16 17 committee chairman made a comment to the entire 18 board and all of the senior executives about how much the audit committee enjoyed the presentation, 19 I call out Walker especially because of how brutally honest she was in her presentation. 22 And my take on that was that that was 23 probably a warning sign to members of the board that we got a problem and her name is Carlette Walker, because you don't usually refer to whole city of Pomaria is just walking off with gasoline and everything else that they want at our expense. And so to me, that's just an indication of a culture that is just not managed at all. Q Okay. And so I used examples like that of some of the audits that we've done where they've described a system that's, you know, really nice, 11 got all the control features that you want, but then when you go walk out in the field, you find 13 there's not a control in place. 14 Q Switching to the -- the E.P.C. contract, that -- that was already in place when you got to the project? 16 17 18 And my understanding is that the Q 19 E.P.C. contract with Westinghouse put the vast majority of the costs associated with labor on the project in a cost-plus relationship? 22 Α That's right 23 What controls, if any, did you understand were in place to allow SCANA to control the cost of labor on the project?

attitude about everything, then, you know, the

I don't think there were any controls 2 in place. I mean, we -- they -- they hired whoever they wanted to, and if the work wasn't there to be able to be done, they just sat around. I mean, that was one of my biggest pet peeves, it's like you're bringing all these people on board, but you're not being able to bring the raw material in because production can't produce the modular assembly units that are supposed to be lifted and welded into place because the design's 10 not complete. You can't fabricate these modular 11 12 units if the design is changed and when they are 13 trying to fabricate the stuff. 14 So to me, it always kept spinning around the design. And the design was supposed to 15 16 be completed at the beginning of the project. 17 When I left in 2016, the design still wasn't complete. So it's like you can't build something 19 that you can't finish the design on. And I --20 that was my whole problem, to say, well, what -every time I turn around, all I kept hearing about 22 was the design is changing. And so the welding 23 can't be finished if your design is still -- isn't 24 finished. You know, they are welding stuff together. Well, you can't unweld. Or if you do unweld, it's costing you a fortune.

148

you know, a key to go through so you could keep up with who was leaving the fixed cost area, you would think I was asking to build the wall across the border to Mexico. Q So is it fair to say that before the negotiations began for the fixed price contract, there were discussions about the problems associated with the labor cost being on a cost-plus relationship with Westinghouse? 10 А Oh, veah. 11 What do you -- describe as best you can 12 what you recall about those types of conversations. 13 Well, I mean, the -- the primary 14 indicator of an issue was that P.F. factor. I 15 mean, every single month, I would raise my hand 16 when we were having those monthly project review 17 meetings. And I would stop them when they would bring up the P.F. factor and I would raise 19 questions about, so what are you doing to make 20 changes in the P.F. factor? And before I would even get the first question out of my mouth, every 22 single meeting, Ron Jones, my contemporary that 23 was the V.P. over construction, would cut me off 24 and tell me that I needed to take that question

146

And then you have people on site who are working on fixed cost parts of the unit. And then you've got people over here that are working on a cost-plus. And so you've got them all intermingled and it's like, well, who's -- who's keeping up with who's -- on the fixed price piece of the equipment versus those over here that were getting, you know, charged cost-plus? And you could never get that stuff straight because it was 10 11 all about, you know, wherever we can get the work done, let's get it, you know, shipped to wherever. 13 And it's like, well, this all makes a big 14 difference. If you've got, you know, 400 people

25

16

17

19

22 listen to me for anything. So well, hell, I mean, 23 I can't do anything with this. So I mean, I tried, but I mean, if I 25 wanted to put up a 2,000 dollar fence with a --

over here working on a fixed price piece of equipment that was supposed to be done in Lake

Charles, you know, we need to segregate those clock in or sign in, whatever. They wouldn't people, put up a fence and make it so they got to go through a -- a gate where you got to, you know, be able to ask that question. And so I would get cut off every single month. And then when I would have meetings with Kevin Marsh, the C.F --- or the into another forum, that this was not the forum to

C.E.O. of the company, every single time I would bring in the big change orders that worried me, that I didn't think he would know anything about,

and I would bring up the P.F. factor -- it would be written in a -- a slide presentation and I would have prior P.F.'s and then the current cumulative P.F. so he could see that thing was 10

11 just a straight line going, you know, north.

12 And so he could see, it's like the 13 performance is awful and it's just getting worse.

14 And that has to tell you that they are doing less with more. And that's labor is the primary driver in that. And that means you're -- you're not --16

17 you're not meeting the schedule and your cost is 18

going through the roof.

19 Well, I -- as part of those discussions, did anyone ever bring up that it was a mistake for us to enter the E.P.C. contract with the labor risk 22 being on SCANA?

23 Α Nobody ever said that that was a mistake. I think it was just a matter of -- well, I shouldn't express my opinion on something like that, but somehow or another, somebody needed to drive Westinghouse to get the -- the plant design done. I think that was -- that in itself was a huge issue. And then your other issue was a construction company in today's environment trying to build under nuclear standards when you hadn't built in nuclear in 30 years, and the industry,

not knowing how to build in N.R.C. standards today

was a huge learning curve.

10 And I'm sure that Plant Vogtle, the 11 two units down there, they have ended up bearing a 12 lot of costs because of the N.R.C. regs. You

13 know, and the companies in production, they --

14 they just haven't built under those regs in 30 years, so -- and they are tight.

Uh-huh. All right. The last time we were together and earlier with Mr. Balser, there were some discussion about the fixed price contract negotiation. And I -- in your prior deposition, you mentioned that that was the last straw for you.

18

20

21

22 0 How that contract was negotiated. And 23 you've gone over some of that today. What -- can 24 you elaborate a little bit more on what your role would have been during the negotiations of the fixed

151

152

- books. So that was supposedly, you know, real
- insightful for us during the negotiations because
- that was a couple -- I think it was like 2.2
- billion for some reason keeps sticking in my mind
- because we were trying to figure out, so who is
- taking the hit for C.B.N.I. being able to walk off
- the project?

And so we were trying to figure out,

where is -- where is that in this negotiation?

10 And -- but like I said, I don't know if -- if that 11

was real or not because it's just -- it was too

12 coincidental that, you know, they brought him in 13 right in the middle of all of these scenarios we were running. He -- he was smart, but he also played dumb. So I don't know if he was just 16 planted in there so that we could get the 17 satisfaction of feeling like you were able to ask a couple stupid questions and then he just out --

19 you know -- you know, out comes the rabbit that 20 you wanted. It's like, okay, thank you, and then he, you know, goes about his business, maybe went 22 back to Pittsburgh. I don't know.

But anyway, our role was very much 24 support role. Anything that Kevin was trying to understand or -- you know, about like a lot of the price contract?

2 I mean, my role was strictly a support role. When we were working through some of the modeling, we had Westinghouse -- I don't know if the guy was from Westinghouse or C.B.N.I., but anyway, they brought in a guy that was an accountant. I don't know if it was just a ploy.

You know, I just -- I question whether there was really any negotiating going on or if that was just a -- a drama for us to watch so we would 10 11 think there was a negotiation. I mean, I'm that 12 cynical about the whole thing at this point. But

13 they brought in a guy from one of the two companies. He acted like he was stupid to the process, but they had insight into the general

16 ledger.

17 So I mean, I don't know what this

18 guy's story was, but anyway, so the executive left

19 this guy with us. He left him with me, Skip Smith and I think Kevin Kochems was in the room. So we had him for maybe about 45 minutes by himself.

22 And in that little bit of time, I was able to ask

23 him a few questions. And I finally got out of him that the -- the loss that was being taken on

C.B.N.I. was being recorded in Westinghouse's outstanding commercial issues, we had a list of 1

probably -- there were at least 30 to 40 items,

big items that were -- needed to be negotiated,

one of which I think -- I think it was the cyber -- it was the cyber security update got left out. It -- they still couldn't -- they wouldn't throw that in to the negotiation. So it was still an outstanding commercial issue. It wasn't security. It was -- it was the cyber update for the aircraft impact. That was a big update for 10

11 them to protect the shield building from an

12 aircraft impact.

0 Uh-huh.

14 But we were helping him to understand all of those different commercial issues that had 16 come up over I guess probably five years that no 17 matter who you put in the room, we couldn't come 18 to a reso--- a resolution over. They wouldn't 19 give. We wouldn't give. So it got to the executive level. The executives had even tried to resolve these commercial issues two or three times and walked away nothing settled. So in this final

22

23 amendment, they were supposed to settle all of 24 those.

13

Well, in -- in your role as 153

supporting -- in supporting these negotiations, I -- I would assume that if the decision is to stick with what we have or -- or switch to a fixed price option, part of what SCANA would want to know is,
    well, what's the cost under our current situation versus what would be the cost under what's being offered under the -- Oh, yeah, we did all of those analysis for him so we could show him, you know, given the
    P.F. factor, this is what this is going to run us, 10
    this is what we're -- you know, we ran those same 11
    E.A.C. models with, you know, higher P.F.'s, lower 13
    P.F.'s. You know, we looked at the fixed price, 14
    you know, ran scenarios with that fixed price, given change orders, you know, tried to identify where we thought change orders could come in. You know, we ran all kind of different scenarios that
    by himself, not having a construction background, 19
    he wouldn't have been able to come up with. So I 20 mean, we -- we gave him everything he could possibly come up with for him to be able to make a 22 decision, do you want to take the risk off the 23
    table and try to go with the fixed price and pay
    the premium or, you know, would you want to go

2 mean, we could change -- I mean, we built those 3 E.A.C. models so that they were like universal models. So you could change the P.F. factors in one spot and you could change all the model from changing just one cell. 0 Okav. So I mean, we made it so that you could have as much flexibility as you wanted from 10 the very beginning, because we knew that this was 11 going to be a tool we were going to be using from $% \left(1\right) =\left(1\right) \left(1\right)$ hence on because this was going to be an -- an 13 ongoing question as the project continued. 14 And when -- when was the timeframe that Q 15 this was going on compared to the -- the 2015 presentation to the P.S.C.? 17 Α The 2016? 18 2015, the -- the --19 Okay, '15.                 So I mean, ultimately, you know, I mean, I gave my opinion plenty of times. But ultimately, at the end of the day, you know, he and Steve and Jimmy had to make a call and make a decision. And he certainly didn't have me make the decision. And he didn't make the decision at that point. I mean, he still had an option and he -- he still had some run time to be able to finally make that decision.
10
11
             The -- the E.A.C. models that you were 12 running, were those E.A.C. models based off of the 13
    work that had been done by the E.A.C. team?
14 Oh, yeah. I mean, we started with those and then we worked -- worked them out. I 16 mean, those files ended up being ginormous because 17
    we had so many different versions of them, you 18
    know, with different variables in there.
19
                So during the negotiations for the fixed 20
    price contract, SCANA management was relying on the E.A.C. numbers that were generated by the SCANA
22
    EAC team?
23
               Not necessarily the E.A.C. numbers, 24
   but the E.A.C. models.

Q Okay. The E.A.C. models?

it was maybe 30 days later. And the next thing you know, we're starting to get guestions about an E.A.C. And so that fire starts, I've got to take half the team and put them over there in a separate building so everybody has to double team to be able to keep the work going.

11
                In the 2015 testimony, and I think 12
    Mr. Balser went over some of it with you, didn't 13
    Mr. Byrne testify to the P.F.C that the W--- the WEC numbers for estimating the cost at completion, why wasn't it using those numbers to negotiate the fixed Well, I'm not saying it didn't start with the six hundred and eighty some odd thousand.

    I mean, we might have had models that started at 687. We might have had some models that started at a billion-two.
10
                I mean, I -- I don't -- I can't 11 remember all of the models that we used.
12
                Was there anything new or material that 13 came out between the the P.F.C testimony and the 14 negotiation of the fixed price contract that would have changed the evaluation of Westinghouse's 16
    numbers?
17
          Α
                No, not that I know of. Nothing

And the only time you would have to have a hearing is if you were at risk of either the schedule, you being -- coming in and passing the schedule or coming in and you being over the budget. So if you -- if you were -- you know, the budget was fine, the schedule was fine, then you would only -- all you had to do is on an annual basis you could file and tell them how much money had been spent, expenditures-wise, and you 10 could show that those -- that amount of money --11 and what the company did was they picked I think 12 it was May 31st of every year that they would do a 13 look back for the previous I guess it was 11 months. And then they would do an estimate for June. And then they would say as of June 30th, this is our 12 months expenditures. 17 And if that Public Service Commission would approve that 12 months worth of 19 expenditures, then I think it was at October they would approve those as being prudent and allow those to go into rates. And then the first 22 billings that went into bi --- went out in 23 November, the rates would be -- include those 24 expenditures into rates. So the rates in November would go up according to what had been spent for Okay. And I want to ask you some -- again, a little bit of follow up for what you were talking about earlier. Could you explain what -- if 10 11

     you believe that some of the elements in the fixed 12
    price contract deal -- how it could benefit SCANA.
13
     the company, while at the same time possibly 14 disadvantage the rate payers?
                 How the hundred-thou--- hundred 16
    million -- 17
                Well, the -- the -- the switch to the 18
    fixed price contract, including the hundred million 19
    a month, how -- how does that benefit SCANA and work 20
     to the disadvantage of a rate payer?
21
          Α
                 Well, the way SCANA's -- the way the 22
    B.R.A. was set up --
23
                IIh-huh
24
                 -- it -- you were -- you -- as long as

you had a budget and you were under the budget, the 12 months ending June 30th of that same year. So when you -- when they spent a hundred million dollars starting in January of '16, then you would spend a mill--- a hundred million dollars in January, February, March, April and May. So that's 500 million dollars. And then you're going to estimate June another hundred million dollars. So that's 600 million dollars that's going to go into that calculation for June 30th of '16. And then you're going to have July. August, September, October, November and December of '15, whatever your real spend was before you 13 negotiated. 14 All right. So you have 600 million, which that's at least double what you've ever 16 spent in that six-month period in any of the prior 17 six month -- those six months in any prior year. 18 So when you go to file that, and the commission, 19 not knowing any different, approves that 12 months of expenditures, then when you roll them into rates in November, you're going to have the 22 highest increase in your rates that the rate 23 payers have ever seen because you've got such a high level of expenditures that are rolling into 25 rates

Because I think that they knew that information to be able to figure out what they were making. I mean, they never shared enough information for us to figure that out. I know that senior staff misrepresented at a minimum that the Tashiva (ph.) write down -- I guess it was in '15, where they represented to the staff that that had nothing to do with the U.S. nuclear projects.

    And late in '16 is when several of us found out that it had everything to do with the U.S. nuclear 10 projects.
11
                 And then in '16 -- I think it was in 12
    '16 is when Westinghouse was declaring bankruptcy.
13
    And I think it was hard for them to cover that one up because that one was pretty public and in the Well, let me ask you, were there any 17 discussions at SCANA that Westinghouse might declare

20
                 I don't know because I wasn't there.
21
                In the negotiations that you were there

Never was brought up. I know one of nonperformance.

                And -- and I may -- I may have my timing wrong, but I want to make sure we're on the same page. I think less than a year after the hundred million dollar a month payments were un--- over under the fixed price contract, Westinghouse declared bankruptcy. Is that your recollection of sort of the timeframe?
11
          А
                That's what I think happened. I know it was about 18 months after I resigned that the 13 whole thing was plugged up. And it's kind of 14
    like, that's kind of what I expected.
          Q
                Well, the -- I guess what I'm -- I'm looking at is, under the fixed price contract, based 16 17
    on historical payments, SCANA paid a lot more in 18
    that period between the fixed price contract with, 19
    you know, its beginning and Westinghouse declaring bankruptcy than it would have been -- would have paid if it had stepped onto the cost -- cost-plus.
22
    Is that accurate?
23 I don't know. I mean, did they keep paying the hundred million dollars a month for the life of the fixed price contract?

165 167 Well, just if they had made the first projecting to spend? Q 2 2 five --Α Now, say that again. 3 Six months. I -- whenever SCANA would go in front of the P.F.C with a budget -- or -- and let me -- let Yeah, six months payments, that six hundred million dollars, would that have been more me rephrase that. Whenever SCANA would go into the than they would have paid under the cost-plus P.F.C with a request for a rate increase -arrangement? Α Under normal circumstances? Not for 18 months. For 18 months, Start with --9 they would have spent more than 600 million. I Outside of this construction? 10 mean, they were -- they were averaging about 50 10 No, on -- on this construction project. 0 11 million on construction. 11 Okav. 12 Uh-huh. 12 Is it -- would money that had been spent 13 13 So for 18 months, I mean, that -- do already be treated differently than money where they Α 14 the math on that, it would be more than 600 14 are saying we're going to need this in the future? 15 Absolutely. I mean, only money that Do you know what they did -- what the 16 16 has already been spent would go into rates. 0 17 payments were following the end of the hundred 17 Expended -- expector--- expected expenditures were million dollar a month payments -just simply estimated budgets so that they would 19 No. I don't know what they did. 19 know what -- how much to expect is going to be Α 20 Okay. 20 spent. And they would give it a timeline as to 21 Because I -- I quit in January, right when the money's going to be spent. But you 22 wouldn't -- they would do nothing with it. 22 when they would have started the hundred million. 23 So I don't even know what they did with the fixed 23 Nothing would go into rates because you think price option. I'm assuming from what you're you're going to spend it. It's just -- you know, it would be like telling somebody, well, the saying that they chose the fixed price. But I project's going to cost -- like the first time they went in, I think it was like six billion for SCE&G's share. Well, that -- that's important for

166

2 And as part of entering the fixed price contract, did SCANA agree to drop some of its claims for outstanding credits that your team had been working on? A I guess they did. I guess they just through them into the negotiated price. The only one that I think was left outside of that was the cyber update for -- it was either secure -- cyber security or either cyber for the aircraft impact. 10 11 If -- if they did throw that in as part 12 of the negotiation, do you know what -- what size 13 number we're talking about --14 See, that was the reason that they wouldn't put a number on it, because they were 16 claiming that it was just going to be too hard for 17 them to come up with the price tag. So they were 18 just leaving that with like a question mark beside 19 it. So the sky's the limit on that one. 20 And I'm not -- I'm not the expert on how the P.F.C operates. That's other people in the 22 room, but your understanding I'm looking for. Was 23 money already spent by SCANA on the project treated differently when it came to approval of rate increases by the P.F.C versus money SCANA was don't even know what they did. I don't even care.

them to know that the South Carolinian rate pavers are going to spend -- are going to have to pick up the tab of six billion dollars for this base load of generation. And Santee Cooper's customers are going to have to pay, you know, 44.5 billion dollars. 10 Well, when you came in at the last 11 one, it had gone up to -- let's just say 8 billion 12 dollars. They are not paying for 8 billion. They 13 are only paying for maybe three-and-a-half billion 14 right now and they are choking on it. But at the end of the day, if we keep going, it's going to end up being 8 billion dollars. So they are 16 17 choking now. They are going to be dead by the 18 time we finish billing them eight -- eight billion 19 dollars. There won't be anybody left in South Carolina that can breathe when we finish the bill and it's got eight billion dollars in it. 22 So that's why you would want to know 23 ultimately how -- how -- how much of a choke is this going to be to you, even though you're only 25 billing at -- at -- at the amount you spent to 169 171 date. You need to know how much is the big -- the 0 -- a heads up? 2 whole going to be. You see what I'm --No. Yeah. Well, let me ask you, when you Now, what was your reaction to hearing were at SCANA, were there ever any conversations you about the decision to abandon the project? recall about the potential of abandoning the Α I mean, it was just confirmation of exactly what I had been saying when I guit. I Α I never heard them discuss abandoning felt like it kind of -- I don't know what's the it. Now, I do -- I take that back. I -- I do word that -- kind of confirmed that what I had remember -- and it might have been -- I don't been saying 16 -- or 18 months earlier was true. remember hearing the executives -- the senior 10 I just hate that it took 18 months for it to stop 10 because I feel like it was -- it should have 11 executives, the trio at the top. 11 12 Uh-huh. 12 stopped before I quit. I just hate that it took 13 13 But I do remember there being me so long to figure out what was going on. Α 14 discussion amongst the engineers and higher level 14 And if -- that's -- that's sort of a Q accountants about why do we -- why don't we scale 15 broad statement. Let me -- let me get you to back and just build one unit. That would be a way elaborate on that. What -- when you say what was 16 16 17 to make it more palatable and to reduce cost. But 17 going on, how would you explain that to somebody that's -- that's as far as that went. that hadn't been sitting in in all these hours of 19 Okay. Let me -- let me -- and this mav 19 your testimony? 20 be more of a broad, philosophical question, but the 20 I think at some point, that Kevin 21 switch from the cost-plus arrangement to the fixed Marsh lost control of the project and the greed, 22 price contract -- or the fixed price agreement, I --22 and the need to save face made him lose sight of 23 was that intended to eliminate the financial 23 what was important in life, and that is your 24 concerns associated with the poor P.F. factors, do 24 integrity. And I think part of his problem was is 25 you think? the people he surrounded himself with.

Probably, to take some of that risk 2 off of the table. To shift that burden to Westinghouse so that Westinghouse would be forced to make the craft, and the production companies that they were having build their modules, make them take ownership of that because that's where so much of the problem was, and then their design. That would force them to do a better job at managing those functions. But you know, the 10 southern project in Augusta started out as a fixed 11 price contract, and it's up to 26 billion. 12 Started at 14. It's at 26. So I don't think 13 fixed price contract gets you very far. 14 Q But it did get Westinghouse a couple hundred million dollars a month payments right up front. 16 17 Α 18 Right before they declared bankruptcy? 0 19 Yeah. That was sweet. A 20 How did you first hear about the 21 decision to abandon the project? I think I saw it in the paper. 22 Α 23 You hadn't had any discussions with 24 anybody at SCANA or anywhere that gave you --25 Α No

1 And who in particular? Jimmy Addison, Steve Byrne and Marty Phalen. Marty Phalen was known to be just -- just trash and just a bad person. And that was the first person he promoted up on the senior staff. And I mean, everybody across the whole company, when he -- that announcement came out, you could almost hear a hush go across the company. It was like, wow, what does he really look for in his management? And that was a really bad, bold 10 11 statement when he promoted him because all Marty 12 Phalen did was kiss people's butt. 13 Q Well, let me ask you -- and again, I 14 might be trying to encapsulate a lot of what we've been covering today. Before you heard about the abandonment decision, did you believe the project 16 17 would ultimately fail? 18 Α Absolutely. 19 0 And when do you -- would you say you 20 first came to believe that SCANA would have to 21 abandon the project, either by date or by event that 22 you think really led you to that conclusion? 23 Whenever I heard the terms of the fixed price contract, that's when I knew, it's like this is never going to work. I mean, when

                I really can't remember much about it.
    I know that the monthly review meeting -- I don't know if they changed the content, the -- the monthly review meeting because they were so 10 11 disastrous by showing the metrics. I mean, you 12
    could take the metrics, and if they were like 13
    showing bad information, they would just change 14
    the metric up some so that it would change to being -- they used green, yellow and red. And the metrics were so complicated that it's like I have 17
    no idea. I mean, there were like six dimensions on one graph. It's like, oh, god, I mean, who 19 knows what this thing's supposed to tell you. But 20 you could look at the one corner and it would be green. Say oh, good, it's green. But it had like 22
    six or seven different things charted on one 23 thing. And if it didn't come out green, then they would just change what they were charting until it turned out green. And then it's like, well, good, something that was really -- not really very important at all. But I mean, they would send you a stack of metrics that were 70, 80 pages, and they would get them to you two days before the meeting. And then everybody in the group was supposed to take their counterparts' metrics and like silly. It's like out of all of the things 11 12 going on in this project, we go through these 13 metrics and nobody asks a question except for me. And I'm asking a question about something that's not even accounting. I'm asking something about P.F. factors, that that's more schedule -- and 17 it's why am I the only one that's asking the question? And everybody else is just sitting

The same thing happened in the risk management meeting. I was tagged to go to that. 22 23 I didn't own that. I went into one meeting. And 24 at the end of the meeting, I mean, I was so upset, I blared out, it was like I -- this product is so

2 But who knows what it's supposed to be really telling you. And so they would emphasize like safety for an hour. And it's like, well, I mean, okay, you didn't have any accidents. We don't need to talk about safety for an hour. And then they would talk about some other just ridiculous topic for an hour. And then you would have to buzz through everything else that was more important in a real short period of time, so they 10 11 would just, you know, go through those really 12 fast. And it was kind of like whoa, whoa, whoa, 13 wait a minute. 14 And then eventually, probably because 15 I kept bringing up questions about P.F., they completely changed the content of the monthly 16 17 meetings to almost a readiness review for whatever 18 the next big thing was going to happen on the site. And so I -- I got to where, I mean, I'd 19 20 just come in and go out throughout the day just because it's like it's totally irrelevant to me 22 what lift you're getting ready to do. Do you recognize the name Joe Arostegui? Yeah. I remember that name. Do you recall what role he filled? I can't remember. Yeah, I think that was the guy that did their budgeting at C.B.N.I. The second document attached to the e-mail is entitled V.C. summer units two and three, 2014, E.A.C. analysis and discussion of cost changes. Do you see that document? Was this the report that was prepared by the SCE&G E.A.C. review team, to your knowledge? This wasn't the final report, I don't think, because it was a slide presentation. Was the slide presentation part of the Jimmy file? No, it was a separate -- no, the Jimmy file was unique. This looks like it backs it up, 21 but they had a -- a nice, scripted PowerPoint 22 presentation, you know, that had just highlight points on it. But this might have been their detailed report that they gave the executives if they wanted more detail.

205 Ms. Walker, if you could look at the top 2 of page three of that attachment. Uh-huh. It says, quote, in its E.A.C., the consortium assumed that the project would reach a goal P.F. of 1.15 within six months, period. This does not appear to be achievable, period. End quote. Was that the finding that was reached by the SCE&G E.A.C. team? 10 Α I think so, yeah. But obviously, we didn't agree with -- that didn't agree with what 11 12 our executives believed. 13 But that was the conclusion that the 14 SCE&G E.A.C. team, that the company had formed, reached, correct? ∏h-huh. 16 A 17 COURT REPORTER: Is that a ves? 18 THE DEPONENT: I'm sorry, yes. of his notes. And then we all talked as a group. And that's when I started becoming concerned about when Jeff was at the hearing and what he knew at the hearing and what impact that would have -- or would have had and should have had and why didn't we discuss it, you know, after the evening session when the customers were able to ask questions or make comments? Why didn't we discuss it after that was finished instead of Jeff just simply having it in -- you know, in his head and not 10 11 talking to somebody? Now, don't -- and I -- and maybe I 12 jumped to the conclusion that they -- they may 13 have talked about it. I didn't hear anybody talk about it. When the thing was adjourned, everybody dispersed and got in their cars. So I never saw 17 him talk about it. 18 Q Did anyone ever give you a reason why 19 the information about the delay was not disclosed at 20 It was never discussed. Q Do you know if anyone else in the company, SCE&G or SCANA, knew about the information about that delay aside from Jeff Archie prior to the commission hearing? 11 No, I don't think anybody knew about 12 it. Well, within Westinghouse, they probably knew 13 about it. 14 And -- and I don't -- I'm just asking about SCE&G and SCANA. Do you know if --16 I don't know of anybody. 17 Do you know if anyone besides Jeff 18 Archie was at this meeting, this monthly project 19 status review meeting on July 16th? 20 They -- no other -- nobody else would have been because everybody was at the hearing, 22 all of the officers, because it was Steve, Kevin. 23 Marty Phalen never went to the nuclear plant. Dukes Scott was the director of the O.R.S.; is that right? 11 Α That's right. 12 What type of meeting are you talking 13 about here? 14 Δ Just a briefing where we just go over 15 and give him a briefing on the project. Q Did you frequently attend those 17 meetings? 18 We didn't really have briefings where 19 it was just Dukes and the three of us. It tended to be more of a -- a quarterly briefing with like 20 most of his staff and -- the legal staff. And 21 then it would be like Skip, myself, the guy over 23 construction, which would be Allen Torres, and 24 then William Hudson from corporate planning would go. Can you explain what you meant there? 17 17 Α Well, I mean, I laughingly told people 18 Jimmy. It was probably more from 18 when I first was put in that position, people 19 19 Belton Zeigler and Mitch Willoughby, their outside would say congratulations, and I joked and I said, 20 legal counsel that helped with all of the well, it's really more of a sacrificial lamb. So regulatory stuff that would kind of coach you as I would make the baa-haa noise because it's like, to what you were supposed to get into and not get well, when things go bad, you know I'll be the 22 23 23 sacrificial lamb, don't you? 24 You mention at the top of this e-mail 24 And -- and then it was around this 25 that you had the benefit of talking with George timeframe in February of 2015 that things just continued all the way through until my husband got sick. And then when they filed that testimony and put the number that I had argued was too low -and then from there, it just went downhill throughout the balance of that year until I finally saw the real Kevin at the end of the year. And at that point, it was my 33 years that I had put into the -- my career were shot. 10 11 I would like to return to just one issue that Mr. Haltiwanger had asked you about. And it 13 relates to the calculations that SCE&G was deciding to use in deciding whether to enter into the 2015E.P.C. amendment, including the fixed price option. 16 When SCE&G was deciding what the cost would likely 17 be if it didn't enter into the amendment and if it 18 just stayed with the current contract --19 Uh-huh. 20 -- did it use the -- the cost or estimate as the cost the cost that Westinghouse had 22 provided to SCEAG and that was used in the 2015 23 P.S.C. filings or did it use a -- a higher number? 24 See, that, I can't remember. You Α know, they did -- we did like tons of modeling.

And I can't remember all of the scenarios that we ran. So I mean, I -- we may have done the 680 or whatever it was and the billion-two -- or we might have picked something different. You know, at that point, we might have updated based on the new average P.F. factor. You know, I just don't remember.
           Do you know who would know information
on that subject?

- 10 Kevin Kochems would probably be -- be Α
- 11 the best person to ask. 12 And there were documents generated on that issue regarding the models to you?

there at the company.

25

- 14 Yeah, all of those are -- should be saved in the internal documents that they have at the company. He's -- he's the one that's still 16
- 18 0 And Ms. Walker, in your interactions 19 with the O.R.S. personnel that were overseeing the 20 project, what was your impression of the diligence of those individuals?
- 22 I think that the O.R.S. staff were --23 they tried. I was extremely disappointed in Dukes 24 Scott when he made the decision to not have Gary 25 Jones' testimony filed and he tore it up and had him stay in Chicago. To me, that's fraud. SCE&G

And so we greeted each other and he 2 asked me where I had been. And I said, what do you mean, where I've been? And I said, I -- I resigned from the company. And he looked startled and said, well, I didn't know that. And I said, yeah, I resigned. And he said, well, I'll be sure and tell Dukes that. And I said, well, you don't think Dukes knows that I am no longer with the company? I said I haven't been there since 10 January. And he said, I don't know; I'll have to -- I'll -- I'll tell him that; I'm sure he will
12 want to know. And I said, well, you do that, but 13
    take care of yourself.
14
               And so I don't -- we parted and he 15 went and got on his plane, and ended up, he was on 16 the same plane we were flying to Columbia in. But 17 you know, he's a nice guy and I think he knew what 18 he was doing. And so I -- I mean, I'm super 19 disappointed. I mean, I don't know what Dukes got out of it other than it was just -- you know, SCE&G or SCANA executives just kissed his butt and 22 he was on an ego trip. Because he was an ego--- 23
    he's an egomaniac.
24

was required to pay for that consultant. And for him to not have that consultant's testimony entered in that case was inappropriate and he should have been terminated. But yet, he was allowed to retire. I think that there should be something done about that. He shouldn't be allowed to be able to just walk away and not have his name tarnished, just like Kevin, Steve, Jimmy and Jeff Archie and Marty Phalen. I think all of 10 11 those are really bad actors and they've hurt a lot 12 of people.

0 Did you agree with Gary Jones regarding the -- the testimony that ${\tt Mr.}$ Jones was going to 13 14 I never -- I never saw it. So I -- I 16 Α 17 don't know what his testimony was. I just know 18 that when my husband and I were flying home from 19 Chicago, I think it was about six -- well, it was 20 in like June of '16. We had gone up for a wedding, and we were flying out of the O'Hare 22 airport and we happened to run into Gary Jones in 23 the security line. And of all the people to run into in the O'Hare airport, I ran into Gary Jones and Gary was kind of surprised to see me.

to O.R.S. when you worked on the project?

I wouldn't say that. I mean, I think they were pretty -- I think they were pretty open with the information. I think that that project was so huge and that staff was -- it wasn't outfitted with the people it would take to be able to -- to oversee a project of that magnitude. You mentioned -- or strike that. The -the Westinghouse productivity factor of 1.15 that 10 was used in the calculations, did you ever receive 11 any information that gave you an impression as to whether Westinghouse thought it could -- really, 13 truly thought it could achieve that number? 14 A I never heard anything about a 1.15. And -- and whether they could achieve that, I 16 mean, you could never convince me that they could 17 ever hope to get a 1.15 on that project. 18 Ms. Walker, are you a stockholder in Q 19 SCANA? 20 No, I don't own any stock in SCANA. I did, but as soon as I was no longer an insider, I sold every -- I -- my financial planner asked me 22 23 if I wanted to keep just some as a memory. I said I don't want to own one share of stock in that company.
